Absorbent anti-slip mat

Mats must be used white side up, i.e. stand on the white side, with the blue side facing down

Safehold - Anti-slip disposable absorbent floor mat - Instructions for use

The anti-slip disposable absorbent floor mat is always used with the blue (3-litre mat) side in contact with the floor, and the white side facing up... so the user is standing with their feet on the white side.

Once wet, capillary action on the blue side of the mat will hold the mat in place, preventing movement and helping to prevent slips.

This capillary action also means the mat can be thrown down on to an already wet floor - it will start to absorb and 'suck the water up'.

Once used, the mat can be safely incinerated

Dual-sided

Allows the mat to absorb, store and bind fluid through both sides

Single-use

Non-sterile

Latex-free
